

Washington Post

Nov. 23, 2016

Presidential Inaugural Committee seeks workers and volunteers

By Dana Hedgpeth

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Boris_Epshteyn

The 58th Presidential Inaugural Committee said it is seeking workers and volunteers for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Donald J. Trump and Vice President-elect Michael R. Pence.

The inauguration ceremony will take place Jan. 20.

Those who are seeking jobs should email resumes@58pic2017.org. And those looking to volunteer should email volunteer@58pic2017.org.

The committee also said that Boris Epshteyn will serve as director of the communications committee for the inauguration. He was most recently a senior adviser to the Trump campaign.

For any groups that are interested in participating in the inaugural parade, they must apply by Dec. 5 at this website.

Those with press inquiries or in need of other information are asked to email press@58pic2017.org.